HAWAII PRINCE HOTEL WAIKIKI BEGINS MULTI-MILLION DOLLAR ROOM REFRESH AND RENOVATION

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
(May 31, 2011)

HONOLULU – The 521-room Hawaii Prince Hotel Waikiki and Golf Club has started a $5 million room renovation to update and refresh its look to meet the needs of today’s island visitor. Local interior design firm, Philpotts & Associates was commissioned to create a new softness to the guestrooms that reflect an island sense of place in tune with the contemporary architecture of the building. In addition, the hotel is restoring its signature 25-foot tall waterfall fronting Ala Moana Boulevard.

“We are reenergizing and refreshing the guest rooms in a stylish island décor that complements the spectacular views of the Pacific Ocean and Ala Wai Yacht Harbor,” said Donn Takahashi, president of Prince Resorts Hawaii. “The entire project has been timed to place the hotel at its very best to host a full house of government leaders and senior officials during the APEC meetings in November.”

The multi-million dollar room renewal includes guestrooms updated with flat-screen televisions, island inspired weaves, textures and motifs with a contemporary twist, specially designed bed décor, Hawaiian kapa patterned carpeting, new artwork featuring local artists and contemporary lighting.

The redesigned waterfall at the hotel’s front entrance along the Waikiki Promenade gateway will add Hawaiian plantings such as Plumeria, Macarthur Palms and Red Ti plants to enhance its look by adding lush tropical greenery and shade. The waterfall will be engineered to become more ecologically friendly, minimizing water and energy consumption.

The resort will also update its award-winning Prince Court and Hakone restaurants with new carpeting and upholstery.
